LUX, DARBY (ca. 1698–1750). BORN: ca. 1698. IMMIGRATED: probably, if so by the early 1720s. RESIDED: called “of Great Britain,” 1722, and “of

Anne Arundel County” by 1724–1742 (although he is termed “of London” in 1732 and 1734 by his correspondents in England); moved to Baltimore Town in 1743 and lived there until his death. FAMILY BACKGROUND. There are several men with the name Lux in Maryland records during the early 1700s. At least two others in addition to Darby Lux were ship captains in the tobacco trade between Anne Arundel County and Great Britain. Capt. William Lux, commander of the ship Concord, transported tobacco from Anne Arundel almost every year between 1713 and 1729. A Capt. John Lux, of the ship Owner's Good Will, appeared in Anne Arundel only in 1721, but may have been the John Lux, mariner, of Prince George's County who died in 1727/28 and whose estate Darby Lux administered. Another John Lux (alias Jan Luyex) died in Kent County in 1732, leaving a will that mentioned property (probably money) due him in Brussels. While no obvious family connection between any of these men has been found, it could probably be assumed. MARRIED on May 16, 1722, Ann Sanders (ca. 1705–1785), daughter of Robert Sanders (?–1755) of Anne Arundel County and wife Rebeckath Groome (?–1752). Ann was the granddaughter of James Saunders (?–1707). Her brothers were Robert (1702/3–1775); William (1699–?); James (1700/1–?); and Moses (ca. 1710–?). Her sisters were Ann (1700/1–1702); Rebekah (ca. 1707–?), who married in 1732 Thomas Jennings (?–1759); Agnes (1716/17–?), who married Thomas Baldwin (?–1762); and Elizabeth (ca. 1720–?). Her nieces were Anne Jennings (1745–1794), who married Thomas Johnson, Jr. (1732–1819); Ann Baldwin, who married Samuel Chase (1741–1811); and Hester Baldwin (?–1832), who married Jeremiah Townly Chase (1748–1828). CHILDREN. SONS: William Lux (by 1730–1778); Darby Lux (?–1795); and Robert (?–1796). DAUGHTERS: Mary (by 1730–?); Sarah (?–ca. 1734); Elizabeth, who married Daniel Bowley (?–1745); Ann, who married in 1751 Nicholas Ruxton Gay (?–1770); Sarah, who married (first name unknown) Stewart; Rebecca (?–by 1780), who married Col. Daniel Hughes (?–1818); Frances, who married William Russell; and Jane. PRIVATE CAREER. EDUCATION: literate. RELIGIOUS AFFILIATION: Anglican. St. Paul's Parish, Baltimore County, 1743–1750. SOCIAL STATUS AND ACTIVITIES: Gent., by 1743; member of the South River Club, Anne Arundel County, before 1742. Described by his daughter-in-law, Agnes, in 1778 as
